But it is reasonable to suppose that he has, for he makes it an exclusive business, and guarantees to give you a good fit, on every purchase. Call and see him before buying. He will be found north side Public Square, first door west of City Hotel.

—What is our opinion of a standing advertisement in a paper? It commands confidence. The man who for years resides in a community and lives a respectable life, even though he be of moderate ability, will grow in the confidence and esteem of his fellows. On the same principal a newspaper advertisement becomes familiar to the eyes of the reader. It may seldom be carefully read, still it makes the name and business of a man familiar, and its continued presence in the columns of a paper inspires confidence in the stability of the advertiser.

—"Cain and Abel" is the subject of your next Sunday school lesson. We come to the first recorded crime in the history of the world. This evidently was committed above a hundred years after the scenes which passed in review in our preceding lesson, as is shown from the fact that when Seth was born Adam was one hundred and thirty years old, and his birth must have occurred soon after the birth of Abel. How that century and more passed in exclusion from the garden, and in loss of the conscious favor of God, we are to conjecture, as we have only slight hint in Scripture. It certainly must have been crowded with toil and weariness and anxious foreboding; yet not wholly without hope. Very soon sacrifices of one kind or another were instituted. These first-born children were taught to recognize the existence of God and his claims upon them, and to look for His favor in the offerings they should bring. The great facts: The worship of God began with one son. Only worship of the heart is acceptable to God. Sincere obedience is the one essential. Sincere worshippers may expect assurance of the divine approval. Easy is natural. Anger is perilous. Self only is to be blamed in the failure to secure God's blessing. Sin is terrible in its consequence. Everyone is his brother's keeper. Questions: What is the nature of my worship? Do I allow a spirit of envy? Has God come to me with expostulations? Am I attempting concealment of any wrong? Am I watchful of my influence? Is it well with me now?

—On the 3d inst., Judge Gresham decided the case of the Nodaway bank of Maryville, against Preston, Kean & Co., in favor of the plaintiff. This was the suit brought to recover $12,000 worth of bonds especially deposited with Preston, Kean & Co. by the bank, and which were sunk in wheat deals on the board of trade by F. M. Kerr, the defaulting cashier of Preston, Kean & Co. In deciding the case the judge held that Preston, Kean & Co. had not used due care in protecting the special deposit of the bank. The case will be carried to the supreme court of the United States.

—In our last issue we published an article from the Nodaway Democrat, stating that an effort would be made at the session of our present legislature to establish a Northwest Normal school at the town of Maryville. Should there be a prospect of anything of the kind, we here enter our protest as to the place, and substitute our own little city of Oregon, believing it to be far more advantageous, and to be attended with much less expense. The magnificent building already built and its reputation as a Normal school should go a great way in determining the location; and another fact should be considered, and that is its freedom from the vices that surround towns that have an existence by virtue of a railroad. The locating of this school at Oregon, parents would be assured of one thing: their children would be surrounded with a good, healthy, moral and religious atmosphere, that go so far in making up the good and useful man and woman. We trust that Representative Knowles will watch those Maryville fellows, and substitute Oregon for Maryville.

—P. O. Scholz who contemplated opening a first class drug store in this city, has, we learn, concluded to locate at Fairfax. We modestly venture the assertion that Paul made a mistake.—Craig Meteor.

—T. W. McCoy sold 100 head of fat steers to Gelvin & Munner this week, and will replace them with another lot to feed during the coming summer. The judge is one of the largest and best feeders in the county.—Matland Herald.

—A fatal boiler explosion occurred at the saw mill of J. R. Fidler, near Hopkins, on Wednesday last week, killing A. M. Gray, John Cox and Jno. Smith. J. M. Fidler had his arm broken and his son Maria was seriously injured.

—We acknowledge a very pleasant call from Uncle William Lawrence, of Craig, who renewed his subscription for the twenty-first year to the SENTINEL. He is one of those men that it is a pleasure to meet and we trust he may continue on the SENTINEL's roll for another twenty-one years.

—Miss Hattie Ely gave two readings in our city last week, and owing to the stormy weather, had only fair audiences. We think she has greatly improved since her last visit some three years ago. "Do not saw the air too much with your hand, thus," was an advice given to certain players, and we would like to see it heeded by our little Miss. With this exception, we regard her reading as faultless.

—Ladies, you may not believe it, but it is a fact, Markland has a larger and better selected stock of fine shoes than any other dealer in the county. —H. B. Terhune, of the firm of Hopper & Terhune, of Nonchalant, Ness county, Kansas, gave us a pleasant call this week. They are both Holt county boys and are engaged in the land and loan business and are being quite successful. They will locate you on a claim or loan money to prove up with. Correspondence solicited.

—Go to Oren & Saeger's, New Point, for your WINTER CLOTHING. Their Winter Stock has just been received.

—Many persons take cold by having cold feet, and to these the cold douche to the feet is a most effective cure. It stimulates the nerves and arteries of the feet and produces a brisk reaction of warmth. A single application will sometimes set cold feet glowing that have not been warm for a whole winter. Oley will be entirely cure the life long affliction of cold feet. The colder the water the better; and if one has not the convenience of a douche it will serve fairly well to stand in a tub or basin, filled to six inches deep with the coldest water 2; command. 3; 4; 5; 6; 7; 8; 9; 10; 11; 12; 13; 14; 15; 16; 17; 18; 19; 20; 21; 22; 23; 24; 25; 26; 27; 28; 29; 30; 31; 32; 33; 34; 35; 36; 37; 38; 39; 40; 41; 42; 43; 44; 45; 46; 47; 48; 49; 50; 51; 52; 53; 54; 55; 56; 57; 58; 59; 60; 61; 62; 63; 64; 65; 66; 67; 68; 69; 70; 71; 72; 73; 74; 75; 76; 77; 78; 79; 80; 81; 82; 83; 84; 85; 86; 87; 88; 89; 90; 91; 92; 93; 94; 95; 96; 97; 98; 99; 100.

—At no period of the world's history has the influence of woman, both directly and indirectly, been so fully acknowledged as to-day. The open college doors and the invitation to women to a wider field and more active participation in the busy world has had no effect to rob the sex of any womanly charm, as croakers foretold. When the history of the last quarter of the nineteenth century is written, the historian will write over against the names of many women the word illustrious. It can not fail of record that a woman aroused the people in the great contest which ended in knocking the shackles from six million slaves. It was left to the voice of another woman to arouse the dormant energies of the Nation to the wrongs of the Indian, and to outline the reform inaugurated. In literature she has exerted most healthful influences, while in politics, as wives of Presidents and statesmen, the ennobling influences have been so marked and positive as to call out a Nation's thanks and gratitude. The most hopeful sign of the times is that these reforms will not go backward—that humanity will have its sympathies enlarged, and that the rights of every class will be more sacredly protected.

For Life.
One of the happy events of the season occurred in Bluff City, January 5th, 1886, it being the marriage of Mr. W. S. Gifford and Miss Julia A. Schlotzauer, the wedding taking place at the home of the bride's parents at seven o'clock, p. m., Rev. Charles Miller of the M. E. church, performing the ceremony, in the presence of a few special friends.

The bride is the daughter of one of our most highly respected citizens of Southern Holt, Christopher Schlotzauer, Esq., and who from early childhood has lived among us, and has grown in the affections of all those with whom she has mingled, and who in every way is worthy the name of wife.

The groom, is one of our pushing, energetic business men; for years in the mercantile business of St. Joseph, but some two years ago purchased the Curzon farm in the Bluff neighborhood, and has also a business house at this place and is extensively engaged in stock raising. He is a most thorough-going business man, well worthy to be the father of his bride he has chosen.

The happy couple were recipients of a number of handsome presents, but as they were not furnished us, we are unable to give them. The SENTINEL joins their many friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous life.

The Markets.
CATTLE:—Since our last review the market has been unsettled, first higher and then lower. The first part of our review week, both shipping and butcher cattle ruled firmer under lighter receipts. But this improvement was temporary. In a number of instances values were carried over below our last quotations. Shipping steers which constituted the bulk of the receipts suffered the most. On Monday, when the break came a number of good 1,350-lb. to 1,400-lb steers sold at $4.15 to 4.30 and a lot of fat 1,500-lb steers sold at $4.35. Best cows at the same time brought $2.75 to $3.00. Tuesday there was a little better feeling, buyers taking hold more freely but paying no quotable advance. Stockers and feeders were in light supply throughout the week and held their own, and all good straight lots offering solid without trouble. The offerings of the past week as compared with the corresponding one last year, were 2,000 fewer which would indicate an undue rushing to market of cattle at this season. At other points as well the receipts were much better, but the markets were fairly healthy all over the seaboard.

HOGS:—There was not only a marked falling off as compared with the week previous, but the offerings were higher than the corresponding week last year. Packers got the bulk of the supply and seemed quite anxious for hogs. The market was active with an improved tendency up to Monday. On that day the bulk of sales showed an advance of 25c per cwt at Kansas City as compared with prices one week ago. In Chicago for the same time the advance was 15c to 20c per cwt and in St. Louis 20c. Tuesday, however, the receipts were much better and values were forced down 10c per cwt all round, and a decline of 10c was reported in Chicago and 10c per cwt was reported in St. Louis. Values have reached $5.00 in Chicago and $4.75 per cwt in Kansas City for choice heavy hogs, and it is thought still higher prices may be reached before the season is over. Hogs at present prices are good property and farmers can not do better than feed their corn to hogs at those prices. And as the future market promises well, farmers should see to it that nothing leaves their feet until fall.

The extreme range Thursday was $3.65 to 4.70, bulk of sales $4.35 to 4.55. The same date last year the extreme range was $3.50 to 4.00, bulk of sales $3.70 to 3.90.
